Repairs May Be in Store For Junior High School

Canyon school board members discussed possible repairs for the south end of the junior high building in their regular meeting Tuesday night.

Resignation of Mrs. Bill Lee as high school science teacher was accepted at the meeting.

Speaker Named

Speaker for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet January 31 will be Melvin T. Munn of Pampa, according to Roland Black, chamber manager.

Banquet will be held in the college cafeteria getting under way at 8 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 a person.

Munn is program director and personnel manager at a Pampa radio station.

He is from Ellis County, Texas, and graduated from Mertens High School in 1931. Before coming to Pampa he was special events announcer and feature broadcaster of a radio and television station in Dallas.

Munn is a Methodist lay leader and is active in Sunday School teaching. He is a member of Kiwanis International, the National Tuberculosis Association, Society for Crippled Children, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

For eight years Munn has traveled from 200,000 to 300,000 miles each year as a lecturer, business educator, after-dinner speaker and toastmaster.

He is married to the former Virginia Weems of Greenville and they have two children.

Past presidents of the Chamber of Commerce will form a greeting line at the door. Directors of the chamber will be introduced during the program.

Tickets are available from chamber directors or at the office, Black said.

It is effective at the completion of the fall term. Kerry Franklin, teacher at the junior high, will replace her. Franklin will be replaced by Robert S. Lair. Mrs. Lee said her family responsibilities had become too great to continue teaching.

Parents of students involved in a series of vandalism raids appeared before the board to find out what decision had been made regarding the boys and their school work.

In was decided that "each one of these students be given every opportunity to complete their regular school work on the same basis as any other student."

"This will allow each to become eligible for advancement to the next grade level at the beginning of the 1961-62 school term on the same basis as any other member of the student body, and in harmony with present school policies."

It was pointed out, though, that the boys will be faced with certain restrictions not connected with academic work.

Vandal Suspects Questioned

Seven Canyon youths were picked up and held for investigation of malicious mischief, malicious destruction of property, counts of theft and disturbing the peace last week by local law officers.

No formal charges were filed in any of the incidents, but all were placed on a form of probation, according to A. W. Lair, county attorney.

Police had been looking for the youths after a series of "raids" on the Bill R. Lee residence at 2700 3rd Avenue.

Mrs. Lee is a science teacher at the high school. Lee said the visits started just after Halloween and there had been a total of seven.

"I can't distinctly remember when any one raid took place," Lee said, "but the thing I do remember is night after night waiting for them."

He said that his home had been egged, the water and gas had been cut off and the last time they just drove by and shined a spotlight in the house.

On their last visit the boys shined the spotlight on the house and he went out to his car.

"They came by again and I chased them out the Palo Duro highway. I tried get behind them to get a license number but they were pulling away from me. I looked down at my speedometer and I was traveling 100 miles an hour."

Lee said he gave up the chase and identified the car as a late model two-tone Plymouth.

Police later picked up the youths.

Meeting of school officials, Lee, the county attorney and law officers was held Friday to determine what action would be taken.

The group decided it would be best for the boys to stay in school. They were placed on a 9 p.m. curfew and ordered not to congregate, along with other restrictions, according to Wayland Angel, county judge.

Commissioners Grant Deputies $50 Raise

County commissioners set salaries for county officials and appointive workers for 1961 in Monday's meeting of the commissioners court.

Only increase in pay was for sheriff's deputies. A total of $20 increase was voted to the deputies, whose present salary is $380 a month.

Commissioners decided to pay the sheriff $50 a month in lieu of mileage payment. Previously the commissioners had upped mileage payment an additional cent to avoid a raise in salary.

Other salaries of county officials were unchanged.

Judge Wayland Angel told commissioners newly-released population figures justify top payment of $8,400 annually for officials. Prior to this year, highest salary possible was $7,500.

In other action a decision to advertise for bids for a re-evaluation of county real estate was left hanging when Judge Angel withheld a tie breaking vote.

Proposal, based on specifications furnished by McMorries and Associates of Amarillo, was supported by C.Y. Johnson and B.R. Jones, commissioners of precincts 4 and 1.

In a rural-urban split, Glenn Dowlen, precinct 3 commissioner, and Clarence Beckman, precinct 2 commissioner, opposed the proposal.

Angel withheld his vote pending further study.

Jones and Johnson argued that re-evaluation would eliminate inequalities of the county tax structure. They say present system results in city residential property owners bearing an unfair share of the tax load.

Both Jones and Johnson said they are unprepared to suggest a fair value on county farm lands.

In urging the delay, Beckman said he does not believe commissioners "have really tried to get together on the problem."

Rites Pending For Mrs. Moore

Funeral services are pending for Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Moore, 87, who lived at 1406 Sixth Avenue. She died at 11:02 a.m. January 18 in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo.

A member of the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Moore had lived in Canyon since 1946.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Grace Garrett of Amarillo and Mrs. Frances Caton of Eunice, New Mexico; two sons, Wallace and Kenneth Moore of Separ, New Mexico; and three brothers, L.D. and Ed Rowe of Wichita Falls and Stephen Rowe of Abilene.

Episcopal Minister Is Modern 'Circuit Rider'

By Verita Sanders

WT Journalism Student

In the days of yesteryear, when this country was no more than a few scattered farms and ranches spread over its flat area, the circuit riding minister was a man who rode horseback from house to house, from settlement to settlement, performing his duty and his life's work in a manner which has made him an integral and immortal part in the role of the pioneer.

Today, his type is found in the friendly grin of fair-haired Rev. Joel Treadwell, who travels the miles of his route in a pearl gray Mercedes Benz.

Rev. Treadwell, who is vicar of the All-Saints Episcopal Church in Canyon and the St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Hereford, averages about 1,000 miles a month in his mission travels.

Rev. Treadwell, who makes his home in Hereford at 416 Star St., drives to Canyon at least twice, but usually three times a week to conduct services in his Canyon church, at the Joseph Hill Chapel on the West Texas State College campus, or at the Canterbury House, the Episcopal student center, where he is director.

Other stops in his nomadic services as a minister are in Dimmitt, where he meets with five people for services in private homes, one family in Farwell, one person in Vega and many rural families where he stops for his regular visitations.

"Surprising as it may seem," says the Rev. Treadwell, "I never get tired of driving. My car is my office, and I like to be kept busy."

And busy he is.

Besides his work with the Canterbury House, both churches in Hereford and Canyon, and spending half his time counseling with students and families, the Rev. Treadwell is also vice-president of the Hereford Ministerial Alliance. He is bi-district advisor of Explorer Scouts, chaplain and full-time volunteer fireman of the Hereford Fire Department, second vice-president of the Hereford Lion's Club and publications chairman for Deaf Smith County's Council on Alcoholism.

He works with the church youth camps every summer and will this summer be Dean of the Intermediate Youth Conference of the Episcopal diocese of northwest Texas.

He has been a delegate to the Provincial Synod of the Southwest of the Episcopal Church, which includes six states and Old Mexico. He is on the college work commission of the diocese in northwest Texas and is in charge of re-establishing Episcopal college work at West Texas State College. He refers to his work at the college as "his baby."

And in his spare time—spare time?—he has several hobbies and sports he enjoys. "I'm afraid I'm addicted to golf and photography," admits Rev. Treadwell. The vicar converts the kitchen of his home into a darkroom to develop and process his colored film for mounting slides.

"I love to vacation in the mountains," says Rev. Treadwell, who also expresses the desire to learn to water ski this summer.

The Rev. Treadwell and his family moved to Hereford in 1958 from McGregor, Texas, where he conducted two missions, one at McGregor and one at Gatesville. He also served as chaplain at the Gatesville

State School for Boys.

"I became very interested in working with youths while I was at Gatesville," says Rev. Treadwell. "I find youth work to be one of the most stimulating and rewarding types there are."

The Rev. Treadwell and his wife, Janice, have three children, five-year-old Joel "Jody" Collins, two-year-old Mary Jan, and nine-month-old Martha Jill. Rev. Treadwell humorously refers to his wife, who was raised in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, as a "swamp girl."

The vicar attended the University of Texas before receiving his BA degree in sociology from Northwestern State College in Natchitoches, Louisiana. He received his Bachelor of Divinity from the Virginia Episcopal Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Virginia.

Extension Agents To Meeting

Randall County extension agents attended a training meeting for agents of District I Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Mona Hildreth, home demonstration agent, and John Brazzil, county agent, participated in the meeting held in Amarillo.

Information on rural civil defense, communications, and newspaper writing was given at the meeting.

Since he moved to Hereford, the average attendance of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church has doubled, and the Rev. Treadwell expects to add on to the building within the next two years.

"There's never a dull moment in my work," adds Rev. Treadwell. "I'm everything from janitor, to secretary, to plumber, to electrician to an organ repairman."

Rev. Treadwell is proof that an active life is a productive life. His role is the modern circuit rider, with the vast and very welcome opportunity of meeting many new people and cultivating new friendships.

Girls Defeat Hedley Team

Canyon Eaglettes began district basketball play by dropping two games and winning a non-district game.

In a 39-35 victory over Hedley here Saturday, Patricia Salmon filled the baskets with 31 points, to lead her team to a non-district victory.

Tulia outscored the Canyon girls Tuesday night, 41-34. High point girl for the Eaglettes was Patricia Salmon, with 15 points, and Jacquita Barnard was close behind with 11 points.

Second district defeat for the Eaglettes was handed them by Dimmitt in a 47-37 tilt played here Tuesday night. Patricia Salmon was again high scorer, dropping in 19 of the girls' 37 points.

St. Ann's Circles Plan Biblical Programs

Four circles of St. Ann's Catholic Church conducted discussions of the Bible and planned future sessions when they met recently.

Infant Jesus of Prague Circle met in the home of Mrs. J.B. Hickman to discuss the beginning of the New Testament. They planned to continue the discussion at the next meeting, scheduled for the home of Mrs. Joe Gidden February 1.

Mrs. John Stritzel will lead the discussion.

SOCIETY NOTES

Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Cundiff will go to Dallas Sunday to attend the Dallas Mid-Winter Dental Meeting January 22-25. Dr. E. James Cundiff II, 6020 Sherry Lane, Dallas, will also attend the meeting, which will make it an important meeting for Dr. Cundiff. This will be the son's first meeting. He received his doctor's degree in May, 1960.

Don't forget the big bridge tournament tomorrow in the American Legion Hall. Besides benefiting a good cause--the American Cancer Society--the event will be an opportunity for good fellowship. It will give a chance for lots of Canyon residents to visit with neighbors, as well as meet newcomers to Canyon.

Canyon has long been known as a bridge-playing town anyway.

Cristler Crain, grounds superintendent at the Randall County Junior Livestock Show Friday and Saturday, has been bragging on four local boys. Seems the four, Harley Wesley, Kyle Lee Powers, Joe Triplett, and Steve Hill, had no stock in the show but worked hard assisting Crain, who says they did a really good job.

42' Tournament Held Saturday

The "42" tournament sponsored by the Tongue and Thimble Club met Saturday evening in the E. W. Schaeffer home, with Mrs. Rayford Shipman as co-hostess.

Four tables of progressive "42" was in progress throughout the evening.

Refreshments of sandwiches, doughnuts, coffee, and cocoa were served to Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley, C. P. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, Madge Sutton, Charles Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Shipman and children, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Schaeffer.

Third tournament will be held Saturday evening in the J. W. Wesley home, with Mrs. G. E. Wesley and Mrs. E. M. Wilson as co-hostesses.

L. C. Rutharts Honored by Open House on Golden Anniversary

Children of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ruthart of Canyon honored their parents with an open house in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ruthart, west of Canyon, on January 8.

Occasion for the celebration was the couple's Golden Wedding Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Ruthart were married January 9, 1911, at Leedy, Oklahoma. Calling hours were from 2 until 5 p.m. Receiving guests were the couple's eldest son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ruthart. Approximately 300 persons called.

Presiding at the guest book were granddaughters, Mrs. Troy Burrus of Amarillo, Mrs. Lynn Williams of Canyon, and Mrs. Dwayne Currie of Canadian.

Serving table was laid with a ecru linen cloth trimmed with gold lace insertions, and centered with an open mesh golden bell with gold frosted mums and white pom-pom mums. Streamers were inscribed in script with the honorees' names and date.

Other floral decorations were a goblet filled with golden mums and inscribed with the traditional anniversary motifs, and three potted plants of golden chrysanthemums, a gift from relatives in California, Dallas, and Littlefield.

Mrs. V. A. Howard of Oklahoma City and Mrs. D. C. Lindley of Canyon, the couple's daughters, presided at the first serving table, and Sharon Ruthart and Karen Ruthart, granddaughters of the honorees, served refreshments from the second table.

A three-tiered cake, white and gold mints, nuts, coffee, tea and punch were served.

Members of the house party were the couple's children, their wives and their husbands. They are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ruthart, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Ruthart of Groom, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ruthart of Ordway, Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Ruthart of White Deer, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Howard of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ruthart of Seminole, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Ruthart, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ruthart, Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Ruthart, all of Canyon.

Displaying gifts were members of the house party and Miss Yvonne Ruthart of Ordway and Mrs. Garland Ruthart of Canyon.

During the event selected recordings were played for background music.

Special gift of the family was a family tree bearing portraits of children, grandchildren, and 9 great-grandchildren, a total of 65 pictures.

The couple exchanged wedding rings. Mrs. Ruthart's was a 12-diamond band, and Mr. Ruthart's was a gold band.

For the affair Mrs. Ruthart chose a light blue dress of embroidered satin, with a corsage of yellow roses accented with golden wedding bells and pearl hearts.

Mr. Ruthart's boutonniere was a yellow rose.

The honoree's daughters wore corsages of white carnations, and the eight sons had boutonnières of white carnations.

Among special out-of-town guests were Mr. Ruthart's two surviving brothers and their wives, who also celebrated their Golden Anniversaries in November, 1960. They are Mr. and Mrs. James Ruthart of Sundown, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ruthart of Paris, Texas. Mrs. Ruthart's brother and sisters were also present. They are E. A. Wright of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Palmer of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Savage of Littlefield, Mrs. Leonard Smith of Dallas, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Taylor of Arlington.

Other out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Ruthart and children of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Shaw and children of Sundown, Loyd Ruthart and Earnest of Morton, Burnice Ruthart of Muleshoe, Glidewell Ruthart of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Lucas of Mesquite, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Wilson of Dallas.

Fairview Breezes

BY MRS. J. W. WESLEY

We were sorry to bid our pastor good-bye for the time being, as Sunday was the last day he and his family will be with us. He received his call Saturday and will be assigned to military duty in Korea for one year.

We honored our pastor with a basket lunch Sunday at the church, following the services.

Betty and Patricia Patterson and Laquita Palvadore were visiting their parents, the John Pattersons, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and boys, Mike and Jimmy Don, were visiting Mrs. Smith's parents Saturday night and Sunday. They live in Lubbock.

We were misinformed as Mr. and Mrs. Troye Langston didn't go to Mineral Wells. Mrs. Langston has been ill with flu all week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson and children visited Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley and enjoyed five games of Mexican dominos.

Mrs. John Patterson will check into Neblett Hospital Monday evening where she is to have surgery Tuesday morning. We wish her a speedy recovery.

We were happy to welcome Mrs. Richard Evans and Patricia Patterson to church Sunday.

We will have church Sunday as Brother Lew Allen is sending us a preacher on trial and Sunday School will be the usual time, 10:15. Everyone is welcome.

The T & T club will meet Wednesday, January 18, in the afternoon with Mrs. Charles Wilson, at 2:30.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley were in Amarillo on business Tuesday.

C. P. Rogers, Charles, Ervin, and Darrell Wilson are doing some interior work on the E. M. Wilson and C. P. Rogers home.

Vickie and Ernie Wilson were ill Saturday and Sunday.

T&T Club Plans

"42" Tournament

Plans were completed for a "42" tournament when the Tongue and Thimble club met recently in the home of Mrs. Annie Read.

Tournament was to begin January 7 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, and additional events will be held on following Saturdays until the series is completed. The affair is an annual event in the Fairview Community.

Mrs. Ora Evans conducted a game.

In other business, each member wrote a wishing list so club friends would have ideas for gifts. In the drawing Pam Shipman won the prize.

Cracker and cheese sandwiches, cookies, punch, and coffee were served to Ora Evans, Annie Wesley, Hope Wilson, Madge Sutton, Grace Schaeffer, Evelyn Shipman, and Pam; and the hostess, Annie Read.

Next meeting will be January 18 with Fern Wilson.

KEEPING UP WITH THE ARTS

Mary Caballero

Since the Fine Arts Festival is only a month away, the buzz of excitement has started as it always does when the plans are being made.

The speaker who will be the highlight of the banquet on February 17, will be Dr. D. Kenneth Winebrenner, Editor of School Arts Magazine, Professor of Art, State University College of Education of Buffalo New York. Dr. Winebrenner has had much recognition as publisher, lecturer and artist.

I thought it would be interesting to check through some of his editorials and give you a sample of the variety of subjects he covers. They are the most fascinating reading one can imagine.

Since I want to say a lot in a small space, I will give you a few titles and numbers of lines from each editorial.

The World We Live In -- "The world in which we live is largely the product of our own imagination. It can be large or small, friendly or hostile, stimulating or depressing, depending pretty much on how we look at it."

Cardinal Sins of Education -- This editorial is divided into ideas concerning Memorization, Imitation, Standardization, Indoctrination, Classification, Exploitation, and Evaluation.

No Holidays in January -- "At a recent educational conference one of the teachers said in the art meeting that she always hated to see January come because there were no holidays in the month. Without a holiday to suggest the art activity she never knew what to do all during that month."

Why Jonny Can't Lead -- "Let's face it! We can't do everything that everybody has in mind for everyone everyday everywhere."

Art For A New Age -- "We stand on a threshold of a new age. It is an age intriguing with its possibilities, engaging with its challenges, yet frightening with its implications."

Dollars and Sense -- "With all that has been written, and all of the art conferences that have been held, we would think that more of the things we stand for would have rubbed off on our associates."

These are from several of Dr. Winebrenner's editorials of some year's past, but the one that follows, was written last March and I believe you will enjoy the whole complete thing.

Six-pointed Snowflakes -- "The text for the little sermonette on Six-pointed Snowflakes is a letter from Principal Frank J. Tonis of the Hindley School, Darien, Conn. 'Here is a question which has bothered me for years. I would appreciate your views because as a reader of School Arts I know you speak straight and pull no punches! Every year during the winter months I see pieces of paper in school windows and on the display boards. These are generally rectangles which have been folded and scissored. Ask the teacher or the pupils what they are and you are told snowflakes. Well, Dr. Winebrenner, nature makes her snowflakes with six points. Always six. So my question is, 'Shouldn't art teachers be taught this fact and trained to teach pupils to make six-pointed flakes? Also is faulty nature art?' I think the principal is pulling my leg, but here we go!

The question suggests a number of related considerations, some of which are scientifically-oriented, as for example, whether nature always makes her snowflakes with six points. If this common assumption is correct, we may have the children cover the walls and windows with six-pointed snowflakes and thus be able to justify the value of art education on the basis that this is correlation with science. If we find this assumption is not correct, we may be able to maintain that a snowflake design that is not six-pointed also has its roots in scientific fact. Or we may take the "so what?" attitude, and insist that science and art are not one and the same, that each has its reason for being, and since the fabric of life is so closely interwoven with both science and art that each has its place in the schools. You would want my reply to be scholarly and scientific, and I have therefore undertaken some research study on the snowflake.

In 1550, Magus observed snowflake structures with the naked eye but did not note the hexagonal pattern. Kepler pointed this out later and in 1635 Descartes published in Amsterdam what is thought to be the first scientific records. All of this was before the invention of the microscope in the latter part of the seventeenth century. Probably the most intensive study of the snowflake was made by the Japanese physicist, Ukichiro Nakaya, who began his study in 1932 and carried it on for about fourteen years with the assistance of other scientists. His research included the capturing of snowflakes and development of techniques for making microphotographs of them. His work in lonely outposts was finally transferred to the laboratory, where he was able, artificially, to produce every known variety. His fourteen years of dedicated effort led to preparation of a manuscript the making plates from his voluminous collections of microphotographs. While the book was in actual production during the war, the printing plant was bombed. All that was left was one set of proofs. From these proofs, and with the assistance of scientific foundations, the Harvard University Press published his book eight years later. Its title is Snow Crystals, by Ukichiro Nakaya. This exhaustive treatise covers 510 pages.

Nakaya found countless varieties of snowflakes that were hexagonally symmetrical in design, but the abundance of irregular crystals discovered led him to observe that these probably exceed the symmetrical ones. Nature seems to produce snowflakes by a "separation of crystals formed by a sort of parallel growth," which would lead to a logical conclusion that they should be symmetrical. However, other forces in nature cause "malformed" crystals. This may be due to water vapor that comes in one direction, attachment of "nuclei" that stimulates a (cancerous?) growth, or even the detachment of "nuclei", as well as to meteorological conditions at the time. This may seem like a lot of blarney or boloney to prove a point. But it is scientifically correct. At any rate, we hope that it proves that snowflake designs, like sheriff's badges, do not always have to have six points.

Science and art are not one and the same. Neither are beauty and art identical terms. My dictionary says that there is no synonym for art. Naute is God-created. Art is man-created. The successful imitation or reconstruction of a work of nature does not make it art. Man must leave his own presence and his own intelligence on his work if it is art. And while nature may be his theme, the personality, sensitivity, and vision must escape into his work. The true artist does not copy nature verbatim. The child is not engaging in art activity if the activity does not permit him to exercise his own ingenuity, invention, and sensitivity.

So, down with the six-pointed snowflakes, the five pointed stars, the folded-paper tulips, the pattern-produced Santa Clauses, the directed turkeys, the stereotyped hearts, the traced Lincoln silhouettes, the rows of identical pumpkins that clutter our school windows!"

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

It's not how much rain you get that counts, but what you do with it that is important. It's the water that goes deep into your soil below the evaporation level that grows forage for your livestock.

Rainfall is just about the most important natural resource a rancher has. But even with 15 to 20 inches average rainfall, a rancher can have desert conditions, just as surely as if we lived in the Mojave Desert. "Impossible!" you say. If you think so, just go look at Texas rangelands. On some, you'll see bare ground, annual weeds, and shallow-rooted, low-producing grasses—every one a sure indicator of low rainfall, high soil temperatures, high evaporation, and other conditions characteristic of a desert!

Ranching in a desert doesn't sound inviting or profitable. Yet some ranchers are doing just that! How can this be? Easy. Just take a look at what is happening to the rainfall on these ranges.

Rainfall records in West Texas show that about one-third of the average rainfall comes as small showers. In drought years when moisture is so very important, the percentage of small ineffective showers is even higher. These showers consist of traces to 0.4 inch of moisture, which is lost by evaporation so quickly that grasses can't even green up.

This means that with an average of 15 inches annually, there are only 10 inches to grow grass; with 21 inches annually, there are 14 inches for grass. With 10 to 14 inches, about 2.25 to 3.1 million pounds of water fall on each acre. Scientists have found that it takes about 500 pounds of water to grow a pound of grass, though it varies widely between different kinds of grasses. So if all the 10 to 14 inches were stored in the soil and used by the grass, it would be enough to grow 4,500 to 6,200 pounds of grass. That's enough grass to grow some mighty juicy beef and still have enough grass on the ground to absorb the rainfall, protect the soil, and hold temperatures down.

In May, 1957, a hard 5.5 inch rain fell on rangelands of San Angelo. The drought was broken on some ranges! Where good grass cover existed, moisture penetration was as much as 36 inches. Most of the rain had been absorbed and a mighty good crop of forage was the result. On the bare ranges the story was quite different. The soil was wet only for about 10 inches, indicating that no more than two inches of the rain was absorbed. The other 3.5 inches ran off, taking soil with it, wash-

Pleasant View HD Club Names Committees

Committees were appointed when the Pleasant View Home Demonstration Club met January 11 in the home of Mrs. Earl Burtz.

Meeting was called to order by Mrs. Burtz, who is the incoming president.

Committees named and their members are finance, Mrs. H.

M. Stokes, Mrs. John Jennings, and Mrs. B. L. Hufnagle; program, Mrs. Walter Cranmer, Mrs. Jim Irlbeck, and Mrs. Cristler Crain; education, Mrs. John Jennings, Mrs. E. L. Cranmer, and Mrs. Cristler Crain.

Also recreation, Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. Charles Wright, and Mrs. Roy Henderson; hospitality, Mrs. B. L. Hufnagle, Mrs. J. H. Barrett, Mrs. M. B. Brown; and reporter, Mrs. H. M. Stokes.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Roll call was answered by eleven members, with each telling how they met their husbands and where they were married.

Club voted to pay all outstanding bills, and thank-you notes were read from Mrs. John Jennings and Mrs. H. M. Stokes for the Christmas gifts presented them.

After the business session, Mrs. Hodges led the group in singing club songs. Mrs. Roy Henderson conducted a question and answer program.

Next meeting will be January 5 with Mrs. J. H. Barrett.

Sue Hite Club Taps Officers

Officers were elected and plans were made for the sale of Canyon Eagle tee-shirts when the Sue Hite Club met January 9, in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum.

To be installed as president in May is Mrs. R. D. Wheelock.

Other incoming officers are Mrs. Craig Johnson, vice-president; Mrs. A. K. Goodman, secretary; Mrs. Gene McGlasson, treasurer; Mrs. Oscar Hinger, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Flora Phillips, parliamentarian; Mrs. Sidney Burgess, reporter, and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett Jr., and Mrs. Clay Cooper, library board representatives.

Sale of the white cotton tee-shirts decorated with an eagle and "Canyon" in purple will begin soon.

In other business, Mrs. Billy Willingham conducted a discussion of famous libraries of the United States, telling the facilities of each.

Mrs. A. C. Clark and Mrs. Levi Cole were hostesses for the meeting.

ing out fences, and flooding lowlands.

A follow-up check on these same ranges in September told the sad story. One the bare ranges a crop of quick-growing low value annuals had come and gone, the moisture had been used by poor forage plants and weeds or lost by evaporation, and the ranges were as bare as ever.

So what if you do get 15 or 20 inches of rainfall? On the average one-third is ineffective. If you let 50 to 75 per cent of the rest waste off the range by runoff or evaporation, and end up with seven inches or less to grow forage—and that is getting right down to desert conditions.

You can't do anything about increasing the rainfall but you surely can do something about making effective use of what you do get.

Keeping a cover on the range to help absorb the rains, protect the soil, and reduce unnecessary evaporation is a must on every ranch. Don't take off all the cover. Some ranchers don't want to let anything go "to waste," but that cover isn't wasted. It has a manifold benefit, far surpassing its value as forage.

Canyon HD Installs Officers

Officers were installed when the Canyon Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. D. R. Weaver January 6.

Mrs. Bill Money is the new president. Other incoming officers are Mrs. Jack Barnard, vice-president, Mrs. Bobbie Williams, secretary, and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, council delegate.

Bill Wilson, guest speaker, discussed the Randall County rural civil defense program.

Members drew names for secret pals.

Thirteen members and three guests, Mrs. Marion Higdon, Mrs. J. R. Parker, and Mrs. H. C. Adcock, were present.

In other business Mrs. Gladys Marshall was inducted as a new member.

Members answered roll call with a first aid suggestion. Group singing was conducted by Mrs. Conatser with Mrs. Douglas Marshall as pianist. The group also sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Gladys Marshall.

Refreshments of sandwiches, nuts, coconut cake, spiced tea, or coffee were served from a green linen and lace cloth. Mrs. Miller poured and Mrs. Douglas Marshall served the cake.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Alvin Kuhlman January 24.
